A meeting of Cameron's Little League committee Monday night brought to light the need for about $900 more to finish the nearly completed field on the old Milam Institute Grounds.

Collected thus far is $2,404 for the diamond park and bleachers.

This is a worthy cause, to say the least. Chester Simons, vice - president of the association, said that the ballpark will be completed with lights, backstop, bleachers, graded field and other equipment for the summer season.

He said that any donations to the drive to complete the project may be sent to: Cameron Little League Association, Cameron, Texas.

100 - 100 - 100

The ball park is a truly community - wide effort. The city has done the grading work while the school donated the porperty. Generous donations of time and money have been contributed by dozens of Cameron individuals who want to see Cameron kids, all our kids, have a good ballpark. Let's help all we can, shall we.

100 - 100 - 100

Our thanks to H. G. Newton, Rt. 4 Cameron, and Mrs. Bernice Peed, Cameron, who notified us of their interesting hobbies. Newton, an active 75, does amazing things with a knife and a piece of wood. He sent a colored picutre of some of his whittling achievements that range from wagons and carriages to fancy wood pieces of all description.

And Mrs. Peed has two hobbies, collecting twine string and crocheting book marks, hot pads and dish rags.

She also collects match folders.

You'll be reading more about these Milam and Cameron hobbiest and others who enjoy a unique outside pasttime.

Don't forget to let us know about your hobbies. We'll be writing more about all kinds of hobbies.

Board Accepts 2 Resignations

Supt. Wiley Loughmiller and YHS headcoach Jim Speer submitted letters of resignation Thursday night which were accepted by school members at the regular meeting.

Speer's one - sentence letter asked that he be released from his duties as head football coach when his present contract expires at the end of the spring semester. He told the Herald today he had several opportunities, but had not made any commitment.

Loughmiller's resignation said: "I shall continue to execute the duties of my office as diligently as ever until my resignation becomes effective June 30."

The letter went on to state that Loughmiller had enjoyed working as a principal and superintendent in the Cameron School system for the past nine years.

Acting board President, Mrs. Dana Monroe appointed two committees to screen applicants for the two vacancies. They are: coaches, Dr. Gus Evans and Niley Smith, Jr.; and superintendent applicants; Max Howard, F. W. Vogelsang and Dr. David Shapiro.

Dr. Shapiro moved that a school board election be called for April 2 and that applications for school candidacy go to Howard, secretary of the board, by the filing deadline, March 1.

Posts up for election are now held by Mrs. Monroe and Vogelsang and H. B. Pressley who resigned Wednesday because of ill health.

C. Duncum Files; Mayor Declares He Will Not Run

Coleman Duncum, Cameron businessman, has filed as candidate for city mayor, and Mayor Bassel Wilson told councilmen Tuesday night he would not seek re - election.

The April city election will consider candidates for mayor and three council positions, City Sec. John Andres said.

Duncum was the first candidate to file for any post in the 1960 city elections. Filing deadline is March 5.

Positions up for election are: the mayor's post, council posts held by Sam Houston and Roy Griffith and a one - year unexpired vacancy created by the recent death of Hayden Lawrence.

Officials said the council can appoint a councilman to fill the vacancy upto the April election. No appointment was made up to press-time.

Duncum, 44, operator of an auto agency in Cameron, has been act ive in civic work in Cameron and was a council candidate for a post won by Houston in 1958.

Mayor Wilson told councilmen Tuesday night he would not run for re - election.

"The requirements of personal business and heavy criticism directed at city programs we have tried to support have caused me to decide not to seek re - election. Wilson was elected mayor in 1958.

He recommended that the city council continue the planned program of improving several Cameron streets before the April election.

Duncum is a member of the board of directors of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, president of the Cameron Kiwanis Club, member of the Cameron Church of Christ. He has been in business since 1941.

Dealers To Show Newest Vehicles

The sun eased through cold, overcast weather Wednesday as final plans for Cameron's second annual Mall showing of autos and farm equipment, Double Trades Dollar Days and the Saturday Junior Livestock Show.

Thousands are expected for this city's annual stock-Mall show if favorable weather continues.

Meanwhile about 25 Cameron merchants are featuring Double Trades Dollar Day specials in conjunction with the Mall showing.

Chamber President Milton Schiller extended an invitation to all Cameronites and Milam Countians to attend the one - day Mall and Stock Show and the Friday - Saturday buying features being boosted by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber Manager Jack DuBois announced that 14 Cameron auto dealers, farm implement and feed dealers will show their equipment and cars all - day Saturday, January 23, at the Courthouse Square.

"Bargains offered in the participating stores will prove that Cameron wishes to serve Central Texans with first class merchandise at tremendous savings. Cameron stores invite comparison to the price merchandise and discount offers being offered this week," DuBois said.

Three streets are to be roped off for the auto and farm displays and the Junior Livestock Show, both on Saturday. (See diagram at left.)

Center of activity on the Courthouse Mall Saturday will be the stock show which is expected to attract 100 entries from all around Milam County. The show will begin about 10 a. m. for public view and continue for several hours on South Fannin St.

The auto and farm displays will surround the county courthouse on all four sides and will include a variety of about 50 models of various new cars, tractors and trucks. Several other farm concerns will present displays of feeds, wares and services available to county farmers.

Participating concerns in the annual Mall are: Schiller Motors, Duncum Motors, Hefley - Stedman Motor Co., Rosenberg Motors Woodum Auto Sales, Earle Pearson Chevrolet, Burkes - Howard Co., Ideal Hatchery, Feeders Supply, Cameron Implement Co., and Davis Spray Service, Stedman Tractor Co., Mitchan Motors and Culpepper Motors.

Council Approves Sewerline Survey Ballpark Lights

The City Council Tuesday night approved a budgeted $1,000 for lights for the Little League baseball park and heard a fire report that listed $11,906.67 in Cameron fire losses in 1959.

Mayor Bassel Wilson also urged the council to complete paving of about one and one - half blocks on North Travis between Second and Fourth Sts., and consider paving of the length of West Main St. and four blocks along North Crockett from Eighth to Twelth St.

The council approved an estimated $800 expenditure for the paving job on North Travis, which is pocked with deep chuck holes.

During the meeting Wilson announced that he would not be a candidate for re - election in the April city election.

Also approved was a plan to employ Marvin Turner Associates for a comprehensive survey of Cameron sewerline needs and present installations. The enginering firm will do the complete survey of past and present equipment and prospects for the future for a $1,000 fee.

Rejected was a $500 bid from Woodum Auto Sales for a one - year lease on half of city park property used by the firm as a used car lot.

Approved were bills totaling $3060.66 for overhaul of the city grader. Budgeted money for the project was $4,500. The city recently withdrew plans to buy a new grader.

Jr. Stock Show To Award $500 In 3 Categories

Entries in three categories will go on display early Saturday morning in the annual Junior Livestock Show portion of Cameron's Mall display and two - day trade dollar day features.

Chairman John S. Batte, head of the Chamber livestock committee, said that about 100 entries are expected for the stock show competition.

Prizes totaling $500 and place ribbons will go to the top winners in beef, dairy and swine events, Batte said.

The livestock committee met Monday night to make final arrangements for the arena on the east side of the Courthouse square.

Representatives from Thorndale, Buckholts, Cameron and most other county communities were on hand to take spots in the livestock showing here.

Batte said actual judging will start at 1 p. m. Saturday beginning with beef entries, followed by dairy and swine stock competition.

The stock will be open to general viewing by 10 a. m. Saturday before an amateur public judging contest at 11 a. m.

Judges are: Harold Franke, farm superintendent, Texas A & M College, and H. D. Maxwell, county school superintendent, and J. F. White, Rockdale teacher. Franke will judge beef and swine entries and Maxwell and White, both former vocational ag teachers, will judge dairy cattle.

Assisting Batte in ground arrangements will be Hubert McClaren in beef cattle; Henry Richter, swine entries; and James Luckey, dairy entries.

The amateur judging contest is a special feature of the show each year. It is open to the public with a division for adults and another for school age children, Batte said.

Prizes, donated by Cameron businesses, will be awarded to winners in both categories.

The stock show area will be on South Fannin St. in front and beside McLane Wholesale Co.

Judge Will Not Seek Re-Election

District Judge O. D. Graham today released a statement to the press that he would not run for re-election in the May primary.

A veteran of 10 years on the district bench, Judge Graham had been mentioned as a possible candidate for re - election this year.

His decision to retire from the bench leaves the post open to candidates for the district judgeship, Robert C. Nelson, now Milam County attorney, and W. C. Wallace, Cameron attorney and city judge, who announced his candidacy Wednesday.

Judge Graham's statement said: "To the Voters of Milam County: "You have been very gracious and kind to me in permitting me to serve for the past several years in your important office of District Judge. At this time please let me say, thank you, for that great privilege. It has been my steadfast wish to serve you honorably and acceptably, keeping my eye constantly on the lode star of duty. I am not a candidate for re - election in 1960.

"Thank you so much for your generosity and kindness to me. From the proud viewpoint of a neighbor, you are the finest people in the world."

The gentlemanly jurist was appointed to the district bench in 1951 to fill the unexpired term of Judge W. A. Morrison, now chief justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals, Austin.

Judge Graham was elected to his first full four - year term in 1952 and re - elected in 1956. He is the 12th Milam District judge since 1874, the latest records show. Earlier records were lost when the county courthouse burned in 1874.

Prior to service as district judge, Graham practiced law for about 30 years in Thorndale. He is a native Milam Countian.

He taught school in Gause and other county communities prior to practicing law.

Judge Graham graduated from Huntsville Teachers College and completed work for his bachelor of law degree at the University of Texas School of Law.

Previous district judges were: A. S. Broaddus, 1874 - 1876; Spencer Ford, 1876 - 1881; W. F. Collard, 1881 - 1887; John N. Henderson, 1887 - 1895; W. G. Taliaferro, 1895 - 1901; J. C. Scott, 1901 - 1917; John Watson, 1917 - 1933; Graham Gillis, 1933 - 1944; O. L. Kidd, 1944 - 1945 (unexpired term); John Watson 1945 - 1949; and W. A. Morrison, 1949 - 1951.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

To a tourist, but probably not to the Knoxville Chamber of Commerce, the most picturesque downtown section of that Tennessee city is the public market area. An ancient building stands at the head of a street and the traffic divides to flow to each side of the Public Building in single file, for the rest of the street is taken up with a row of small trucks backed up on the sidewalk. The proprietors display mounds of tomatoes -- red and yellow; apples, also red and yellow; sweet potatoes, squash, carrotts, and peppers, red and green. Each individual product has been scrubbed and positively glistens.

The block of dilapidated buildings is occupied by a barber shop souvenier shop, clothing store, a grocery store and other enterprises. In a stairway entrance a Negro has set up a "shine parlor" and, as a customer, I learned from a remark that he made to a visitor that business had been rushing; it wasn't quite noon and he had already given 14 shines.

He needed an assistant but the one he called on in such rush periods was not available as he was in the work - house.

"Do they work in the work - house"? He repeated my question I gathered if a man said he was sick, he didn't and that there was a great deal of sickness. Inmates enjoyed the workhouse so much that when, because of crowded conditions, the authorities wanted to release an inmate three days before his term was up, he stood on his rights and refused to go.

"How long have you lived in Knoxville?" I asked. (There was lots of time for conversation in the source of the leisurely shine.)

"Fifty - two years" was his reply.

"I don't mean to learn your age; you should have just 'All my live.'".

He chuckled as he answered, "But that wouldn't be correct. I'm still living."

Discovering that I had one lived in Memphis, he declared, "There used to be a great man in Memphis."

"Mr. Crump?"

"Yes, he was a rich man but he was for the little man."

Knoxville's public market reminds one somewhat of New Orleans French Quarter.

Soils Support Underground Life

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

Soils must not be thought of as an inert mass of dirt, for soils are as much alive as a person. Soils are capable of supporting as much life beneath the surface as above it. For example, if the grass and legumes on an acre of ground were able to feed a 1,000 pound cow, then the under - surface layers of the same acre would likely contain about 1,000 pounds of earthworms, beetles, spiders and smaller forms of animal life. Animal life in certain fertile soils is almost beyond reason. Estimations of one million earthworms per acre have been made.

Plant root growth is also enormous. On the average, there are about as many pounds of roots as tops. Plant roots grow rapidly and spread widely. A single mature corn plant may have a root spread of about four feet in all directions and may extend downward more than six feet. All corn roots on an acre are estimated to weigh approximately 1,000 pounds on a dry basis. Many grass roots grow as fast as one - half inch each day under favorable conditions. Corn roots may grow two inches a day.

The importance of plants and animals in the soil is more fully appreciated when we realize that a sterile soil is devoid of life. Without this life in the soil, life above the soil would soon disappear. The maintenance of a relatively high degree of life in the soil is a matter of good farming practices. Water, air and nutrients are necessary to this abundant life. The nutrients come from plant and animal bodies returned to the soil. Clean cultivation of our crops and our failure to return crop residues has greatly lessened the life in our soils.

If you wish to grow good crops, you must increase the amount of life in the soil. Feed the earthworms with organic matter and plants will grow. Turning under compost and green plants, or adding manure will increase the life in the soil and you will get big crops and still have plenty of fish bait.

Plants have a choice of the 90 or more elements in the soil, air and water. Plants take in a little of most of these elements but actually need only fifteen. Four of the fifteen elements come from air and water and make up about 95 percent of the dry weight of plants. These four elements are carbon, hydrogen, oxygen and nitrogen. Nitrogen cannot be used directly by most plants. Only legume bacteria and certain forms of other bacteria are able to use nitrogen from the air and in turn furnish it to the plant. The carbon from the air, hydrogen from water, and the oxygen from both air and water.

The other eleven essential elements are iron, calcium, potassium, magnesium, phosphorus, sulfur, managanese, zinc, copper, boron and molybdenum, which come from the soil. When we grow crops on the land, the plants take up these elements as they grow. When we sell the crops, these elements are sold, too. The land then has less of them than it had before. In many years' time, some of these may be used up. Those generally used up first are nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, and lime.

Nitrogen can be added to the soil in fertilizer or by growing legumes which have been inoculated with a special bacteria. Inoculated legumes from nodules or lumps on their roots which store nitrogen which the bacteria have gathered from the air. Phosphorus and potassium are added as fertilizers while calcium is added as ground limestone. A complete fertilizer contains nitrogen phosphorus, and potassium.

TSCD Reviews 59 Accomplishments

The supervisors of the Taylor Soil Conservation District met in Rockdale Friday, January 8 and prepared the annual report for the district for 1959. They also summarized and reviewed the accomplishments in the district in planning and application of soil, water and plant conservation practices by district cooperators during the past year.

The summarized accomplishments report showed that during the year, 177 additional farmers and ranchers became cooperators with the district and were assisted in getting a soil and water conservation program started on their farms and ranches. In addition 1960 cooperators were serviced and 1,217 cooperators installed one or more conservation practices during the year.

Contour farming, which is performing all the farming operations with the terraces, was established on an additional 5171 acres of cropland during the year. This brings the total number of acres of cropland being farmed on the contour with terraces to 140,094 acres.

Winter legume cover crops were planted on 9,788 acres. Crop residue management (which is the management of the residues of crops and other vegetation in such a manner that it is left on or near the surface of the soil) was carried out on 12,762 acres. Conservation cropping systems were established on 3,801 acres.

Rotation hay and pasture was established on 7,765 acres. Pasture seeding and sodding was done on 7,199 acres and 122 acres were seeded to range grasses. Other pasture and range conservation practices were carried out by district cooperators as follows: Brush control on 5,558 acres; and proper grazing of vegetation on pastures and range on 31,009 acrea; deferred grazing on 10,696 acrea; rotation grazing on 9,408 acres and 70 farm ponds were constructed to provide an adequate year round water supply for livestock and to permit more rotation and deferred grazing to be practiced on pasture and range. Cooperators also fertilized 13,179 acres of pasture and cropland.

February 1st Is Tax Return Date For Farm Employees

February 1, 1960 is the deadline for filing the employer's tax return which reports the cash wages paid in 1959 to farm employees, Maurice M. Chastain, district manager, Social Security Administration, Temple, stated today.

Farm owners or farm operators who had paid as much as $150 in cash wages to any farm workers in their employ during 1959 must file an employer's tax and information return for such farm employees. They must also report each farm employee who worked for them on 20 or more days during the year regardless of the amount of those wages if they were figured on a time rather than a piece rate basis.

For 1959, the social security tax rate is five per cent (two and one-half each for employer and employee.) This tax applies to each wages paid to a farm worker up to a total of $4,800 in the year. The tax amount must be entered on Form 943 (Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employee.) This tax applies to each amount of cash wages paid to the farm worker. It is required that the farm employer do this and file the return with the District Director of Internal Revenue at Austin on or before the due date mentioned above.

Those who attended the Worker' Conference each gave a short report on the meeting at Church Sunday. Rev. Putman was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Foshea and family.

Fatal Accidents Decrease In 1959 For Milam Area

Sergeant O. L. Luther, Texas Highway Patrol, Bryan, said today, "Six people are alive enjoying live that would not have been alive had the same number of people been killed in Rural Traffic Accidents in 1959, in this Area, that were killed in 1958."

"Eighteen people were killed in Rural Traffic Accidents in 1959 in the five county Bryan Area, compared to 24 persons killed in this same Area in 1958, thus giving us a saving of six human lives in 1959 over 1958." said Sgt. Luther. "Through the efforts of the papers, radio stations, the T. V. Stations, and the members of the Department of Public Safety some of the fatal accidents were prevented in 1959."

"We can prevent traffic accidents and thereby save human life, if people will obey the traffic law", he concluded.

For the month of December, thirteen accidents occurred in Milam County for a total of $7,595 damage. No one was killed but seven persons were injured.

Mrs. Hattie Benesh had the following guests at her home Friday: Miss Annie Dillon, Mrs. Vernon Dodd and Mrs. Joe Pagach of Clarkson.

HD Club Hears Miss F. Hambree

The Cameron Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Earl Angell at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Yearbooks were filled in and committees selected.

Miss Frances Hembree, H. D. Agent gave an interesting demonstration on "Fitting and Altering Dress Patterns"

Yoemen B Team Fall To Hearne, 32-22

The Yoemen B basketball squad fell to Hearn last week 32 to 22 while the A squad won their first district game.

Williverson and R. Neff were Hearne's leading scorers with 9 and 7 points. Dan Brashear and Thomas Leonard each picked up 5 points for Cameron.

Hearne edged out the Yoe in the first period, 7-6 and 5-1 in the second quarter.

Cameron got on the ball with 3 in the third frame and 7 in the final but couldn't stop the Eagles as the pushed over for 10 and 8 points.

Rogers Clobbers Rosebud Panthers

The Eagles stalled in the first quarter and then broke loose in the third to take their initial district tilt. The score at the end of the first quarter was 10 - 10 and it looked like quite a game. Then in the second quarter the Flock hit 18 points to only 8 for Rosebud, to pull ahead 28 - 18 at the half - way mark.

At the opening of the third quarter Rosebud abandoned their zone and went to a man - to - man. The Flock hit 22 points against the man - to - man while Rosebud got only 6.

Everett Wright led the Eagles with 29 points and Ronnie Tyler was second in the scoring with 16. Rober tGarrett led Rosebud with 14 points. The Eages next district game is with the Cameron Yoemen at Rogers Tuesday night.

Rogers Rolls Past Caldwell 41-29

View On Sports

By ROBERT MANN

With the resignation of Head Coach Jim Speer, it looks like the coaching staff will have a few changes again.

This time it could mean a complete new staff to head the '60 Yoemen. Jerry Hopkins and Max Tredwell have been told to look for other jobs.

These two young coaches have not been with the Yoemen a full year yet and to some it doesn't seem fair that they leave without a better trial of their ability.

However when a new head man comes on the scene, it may be well that he has a chance to pick his own assistants.

Tredwell did a good job with the B-football squad and got more boys out for the sport than any other B-team coach has in the past few years. A good deal of interest was built around the team from the student body and Tredwell is credited with stirring up enthusiasm.

Hopkins, after slow start, has come on to develop a good basketball team with his material. They won their first district game and were hard to beat in the Thorndale tournament even when competing with higher rated clubs like Round Rock.

Progress on the new Little League baseball field is still going full steam as spectators can see with a glance at the nearly finished field.

The field is located in the 600 block of West 2nd. Chain link fence has been erected around the playing area.

The fence stands highest down the third and first baselines. Stands will be placed around the field that will seat over 100 fans in easy viewing of the playing area.

Brushy Creek Flood Retarding Structures Under Construction

Construction of flood retarding structures in Brushy Creek is moving ahead very satisfactorily. All construction work with the exception of vegetating the dams and spillways has been completed on eight structures. Construction is well underway on eight more structures. Present plans of the Brushy Creek Water Control Improvement District are to have 22 structures completed by July 1, 1960. A total of 24 sites have been completely cleared for construction to - date.

The dams and spillways are to be vegetated to prevent erosion damage. The Brushy Creek WCID plans to let contracts for vegetating of the dams and spillways on eight of these structures in early Frbruary.

The planned flood retarding program for Brushy Creek consists of a three phase program as follows: Construction of 58 dams, approximately 42 miles of channel improvement work on Lower Brushy and Turkey Creeks and conservation treatment of the land in the watershed.

Some 'Fundamentals' . . .

Officials of the Texas Municipal League have noted a reverse trend of the surge of population to metropolitan areas in a recent meeting in San Antonio.

They noted that a trend is materializing away from metropolitan centers first to suburban development around major cities, which is now new, and development of smaller cities nearer larger ones.

In citing the prospects of Texas growth during the 1960's officials said that new jobs must arise from further development of Texas industry, and this is not necessarily industry moving in from other states.

Steve Matthews, a former city manager of San Antonio, also listed the necessity of cities' and regions' of the state working together for stability and growth.

In a San Antonio Express story he was quoted as saying: "During this decade, Texans will find their fortunes tied more to the economic base of the city and section in which they live rather than to the state base."

He set forth five points for meeting competitive challenges which will face cities in the next 10 years. They include:

"1. Cities should launch aggressive programs for developing resources.

"2. Cities should maintain complete economic data on area economic trends.

"3. Make cities attractive to high paying industries.

"4. Physical appearance should be kept up, since rundown cities scare away industry scouts.

"5. Long range planning on an area-wide basis is a must."

If the trend of growth of smaller cities like Cameron is developing, the recommendations made by Matthews would apply to this Milam County seat.

The point of great interest is developing potential industry from an area's own resources, such as Milam County's truck crops, cattle production or aluminum production.

It would follow that these items, on the basis built up by the Cameron Chamber during the past year and one-half and developments in city government, could be used to further Cameron's status in the cycle of smaller city development throughout Texas.

A less enthusiastic prediction was made for towns which fail to attend to these "fundamentals of competition."

Scientists Making Big Mistake In Prolonging Life Of Fresh Fruits

Dear editar:

One of the main troubles with life these days is that most people are bogged down with progress and there's no escape in sight.

Everybody who has been to a big city along about quitting time in the late afternoon knows the automobile at that hour creates more problems than it solves.

Or take farming. We don't have any traffic congestion, but we've got a surplus that's just as bad.

What brings this to mind is an article I read last night in a newspaper an insurance salesman left out here. According to it, scientists are working on a scheme to prolong the life of fresh fruits and vegetables ten times what it is today. By using some sort of atomic radiation, they claim they can make an orange or a head of lettuce stay fresh at least in times longer.

They claim this will be a great step forward, but what they're fixing to do is put fresh fruits and vegetables in the same shape we've gotten all other agricultural products.

Say you're the Secretary of Agriculture. Up to now, while you might be pressed down with worry over the surplus of corn, wheat, cotton, etc., you at least could smile when you thought of lettuce. Oh, there might be a surplus of lettuce for a few weeks, but you could get an inner glow out of remembering the probelm would soon wilt, and a month from now the surplus, however tremendous, would disappear, instead of hanging around for years staring you in the face like wheat.

But no. Scientists aren't satisfied with a situation like that. What they're working on is a scheme to make lettuce stare the Secretary of Agriculture in the face for months and maybe years. Not only lettuce but tomatoes, cabbage, green beans, watermelons, oranges and anything else you can think of.

If scientists had us farmers' and the Secretary of Agriculture's best interests at heart, what they'd be doing is leaving the fresh fruits and vegetables alone and working on a brand of wheat for example that expires six months after it's harvested. If it wasn't made into flour by then, it'd disintegrate. If the same thing was worked out for corn, cotton, etc., the surplus problem would be whipped and all the national magazines could stop worrying about what the farmers are costing the government.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Auto Insurance Causes Ruckus

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Nothing that has come out of state government in recent months has caused as big a ruckus as the merit plan auto insurance rates.

It is possible to take either side of the question and start a lively argument on almost any street corner.

Critics have mounted a two-pronged attack: (1) to get the Board of Insurance, which authored the plan, to change it and (2) to get the courts to declare it unconstitutional.

Board hearing to review the plan was called at the request of Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, one of the most vocal objectors to the plan. Just before the hearing, a group of attorneys from the Harris County chapter of the Texas Association of Plaintiffs' Attorneys filed suit in an Austin district court seeking a permanent injunction against use of the plan.

Chairman Penn J. Jackson declared the Board would listen to all protests with an open mind. Most insurance rates, he said, are subject to frequent changes. However, Jackson emphasized that the Board is directed by law to consider safety incentives and driving records, past and prospective, in its rate making.

Under the merit plan, drivers with no accidents or moving traffic convictions on their records for the past three years would get lower rates. Compensation for this would be a sliding scale of higher rates to be paid by others according to the number and seriousness of the marks against them.

Loudest gripes are about the retroactive feature of the plan and the fact that any moving traffic violation, no matter how minor, counts against the motorist.

Because motorists complain that in the past they have paid fines on tickets when they were not actually at fault — just to avoid the trouble of going to court.

Sen. Hazlewood derided the idea of putting all violators in the same class — "those that go 23 miles an hour in a 20 - mile zone and those that go 100 miles an hour." He charged too, that much ticket giving is merely a money - raising proposition. Residents of cities where traffic is strictly policed and all accidents and violations faithfully reported to the Department of Public Safety will get it in the neck, said the senator. Small towns are generally less diligent in policing or reporting villations to DPS.

Hazelwood said he was and still is in favor of a "realistic" merit rating plan.

Defenders of the present plan say that if law enforcement is at fault, this, not the insurance plan, should be working on.

With all the fussing and fuming, say proponents, it must be admitted that motorists are now giving more thought to careful driving than ever before. traffic ticket costing $60 is a sobering thought.

TEACHER SESSION URGED

Texas teachers still hope to get a salary raise in a special session of the Legislature this year.

Leaders of public school teachers' organizations say they believe Gov. Price Daniel will call a session after Feb. 1.

Teachers want to see the matter come up at a special session rather than at the next regular session in 1961. In a regular session, they would face again the same obstacles they faced in 1959, the necessity of taking care of regular money needs probably including a deficit, before any new appropriations will be considered.

FACULTY RAISES PROPOSED

Commission on Higher Education recommends the Legislature raise salaries for state college professors by 12 per cent for 1962 and 18 per cent for 1963.

Commission said Texas colleges need to pay this much more to be able to keep up with other colleges in competing for the available supply of teachers.

During its last session the Legislature cut the Commission's requested college budget by 7 per cent.

Commission has agreed to hear the University of Houston's request for inclusion in the state college system at its April meeting.

20 Years Ago

W. C. Wallace announced that he would run for his first full term in the office of City Attorney.

Judge Graham Gillis gave a speech to the Daughters of the Confederacy.

The Milam County teachers Association met in Yoe High School at a regular meeting. Talbot Patterson, Deputy State Superintendent spoke to the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Evans and Gus Evans Jr. visited in Holland as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M Stafford.

40 Years Ago

The Cameron Public Schools have been designated as one of the few schools in the State to form a basis for perfecting a grading standard for the schools of Texas.

Miss Katie McCall left to reenter the University of Texas after visiting in Cameron during the holidays.

Miss Mary Burns returned to Eagle Lake after holiday visits to Cameron.

Reportable Diseases

Dr. T. E. Crump, acting director, Milam County Health Department, reported an increase in the number of reportable disease cases for the week ending January 16. He reports 33 cases of Strep Throat, 2 cases of Measles, 15 Influenza, 3 Chickenpox and 2 pneumonia.

Hunters Asked To Save Hides For Hospitals - Schools

AUSTIN — A final call has gone out on "Operation Deer Hide", in an effort to get the hides of last season into the hands of the Board of Hospitals and Special Schools as soon as possible.

Early in the season the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission urged that hunters save their hides for the benefit of this program.

Truck lines have agreed to pick up the bundles of hides at locker plants throughout the state and deliver them to L. M. Rathbone, Austin taxidermist. He in turn will pass the hides out to tanneries.

The entire operation is on a cost free basis, to provide the hides which will be used by patients in mental hospitals and special schools for hand crafting.

1960, Heart O' Texas Fair And Rodeo To Run October 4 - 8

WACO — The 1960 Heart O'Texas Fair and Rodeo will be held on October 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, President M. D. Corbin announced today.

Corbin said there again will be five nightly performances of the rodeo. Tuesday through Saturday night, as in 1959 when the HOT Fair and Rodeo enjoyed tremendous success.

"Our basic plan will be the same as in 1959, except to expand with an even larger variety of attractions and entertainment for all age groups," said Corbin.

The fair president said that the star of the October Fair and Rodeo will be named "sometime in May or possibly early June". "We prefer to wait and sign a strong personality who ranks high nationally and will put on an outstanding act," said Corbin.

Leon Dollens will return as executive vice - president and general manager. Dub King again will handle all fair publicity.

Ben Peeks, commercial manager, will start work soon contracting prospective exhibitors. Because of the success of the '59 fair, many exhibitors have asked for the same space in 1960.

"All exhibitors will be assigned spaces they had last year provided they make their requests early," said Peek.

Record daily fair crowds and overflow, standing - room - only rodeo crowds in 1959 are among reasons why fair officials are predicting the 1960 Fair will be the biggest yet.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

Maxwell Named MOD Director

H. D. Maxwell, Rockdale, will serve as campaign director of Milam County's New March of Dimes and Richard Moseley will head the Cameron MOD drive, it was announced today.

Maxwell, county school superintendent, will head an organization of volunteer workers who will seek funds in January for the National Foundation's attack on birth defects, arthritis and polio. These three cripplers affect one in every four U. S. families, according to the campaign directors.

Roy Griffith is in charge of distributing 50 coin collectors in Cameron, Moseley said. The collectors will be placed in concerns throughout the city.

Eugene Mees, Cameron, will head the annual bucket brigade conducted by the Milam National Guard, Company C, and V. J. Hannon, Cameron, will direct special events for the drive.

"Both birth defects and arthritis are among the most cruel of crippling disorders," Maxwell said.

"In birth defects and arthritis the National Foundation has assumed health challenges of major proportions. Some 250,000 infants, or one in 16, are born each year with significant birth defects. Arthritis and rheumatism are the nation's number one cripplers, afflicting more than 11 million persons. And because of public apathy regarding the Salk vaccine, polio continues to be a costly, heartbreaking problem," he said.

Following the program refreshments were served from a table centered with a tiered arrangement of yellow mums flanked with yellow candles. Mrs. Don G. Humble and Mrs. James H. Kahler assisted at the refreshment table.
